VOLUNTEER TRANSPORT

The Volunteer Transport Program aims to meet the needs of people who have specialist medical appointments away from their home town, who do not have means of transport, such as family, friends or Veteran Affairs and who can not access public transport. We can cater for transport requests as close as Horsham or as far away as Melbourne, using a Volunteer's or a Shire car. A small fee is charged to contribute to fuel costs.

This program relies on the generous services of volunteer drivers, who make an invaluable contribution to our community. If you have some time to spare and would like to find out more about volunteer driving or would like to make a booking contact Elizabeth Robinson at the Warracknabeal Office, 1800 065 647

CEO THOUGHT OF THE WEEK

Key areas covered are communication, physical access, awareness, employment plus a host of other issues.

What's so special about this training? Developed by local people with a disability, this training is delivered by local people with a disability, people who live in your community, imparting a unique perspective and providing the opportunity for participants to ask questions and get real life answers.

Consultants can tell you all about the facts, figures and legalities, but who better to tell you how difficult communication can be than someone who faces it every day?
