Population of 694

Median age of 56

Median weekly household income of $1120

Lake Lascelles, Wyperfeld National Park, Mallee Bush Retreat, The Hopetoun Powerhouse, Corrong Homestead.

HOPETOUN is situated on the Yarriambiack Creek in the Southern Mallee, 121 kilometres north of Horsham, 90 kilometres south of Ouyen and 61 kilometres north of Warracknabeal. The town is recognised as 'The Gateway' to Victoria's Mallee region and takes its name from Lord Hopetoun who was Victoria's first Governor and Australia's first Governor General. He was a frequent visitor to the area as the guest of pioneer Edward Harewood Lascelles.

The town's population is 694 and for the past two decades has experienced a population loss of about 1.4 percent annually. The major employers are the community services sector, 29.8%; wholesale and retail sectors, 17.8 percent and agriculture, 16.6 percent. Although the area has an ageing population, volunteerism in the Southern Mallee township is much higher than the state average.

Natural features within easy reach of the township are Wyperfeld, Hattah-Kulkyne and Murray-Sunset National Parks, which protect more than one million hectares of natural habitat and are home to countless species of flora and fauna. Clear cloudless skies are a climatic characteristic.

There are many sporting organisations and more community groups than usual for a town of Hopetoun's size. The town has an administration centre – Gateway BEET (Business Education Employment and Tourism) which is also an agency for several government authorities including Centrelink. The Neighbourhood House currently house Historical society, Patchwork and is Management of the Gym and Hopetoun Mens Shed.
